Day Shift

Narrative

Staffing and activity is reviewed on a four hourly basis and staff are redeployed to areas with increased activity, as maternity by the nature of its work will experience peaks and troughs in its activity. Throughout March there was increased pressure on staffing due to seasonal sickness, however over the whole month bed occupancy was lower than is expected. The actual staffing is lower than the planned staffing, but based on most days bed occupancy was either at or below 60 across the whole unit in all but 5 days. Recruitment to cover maternity leave is underway which will also address some of the short fall. Senior midwives manage staffing to maintain safety at all times

Night Shift

Narrative

Staffing has remained constant although below the planned, however this has been influenced by short term seasonal sickness. The occupancy has remained lower than expected and therefore the staffing was seen as appropriate for the activity and acuity of the women
